NAPOLÉON, OHIO.

LOCAL NEWS, &c.

Personal.

Auditor Ennes spent Tuesday in Toledo.
J. C. Waltemeyer, of Deshler, was in town Monday.
Mr. Smith, of the Deshler Flag, gave us a friendly call on Monday.
Miss Nellie McLain, of Toledo, is visiting at the house of Dr. Saur.
P. W. Graft, of Toledo, was in town Friday, the guest of Nick Bensing.
Miss Clara Hull, of Angola, Ind., is visiting with Miss Jennie Mason.
Jerry Glass, I. Fellows and L. G. Fellows, left for Deatur, Ind., Tuesday.
Mrs. John C. McLain and son are visiting at their old home in Damascus township.

W. L. Wann has resigned as First Lieutenant of F Co., 16th Reg't. Cause, removing from the State.
G. W. Heath, a former resident of Napoleon, but now of Cadillac, Mich., spent several days here last week.

Mr. Lou Wann, formerly of Napoleon, now of Chicago, is at present stopping in Defiance, as a companion for his uncle ex-Gov. Scott.—Defiance Express.

In the absence of J. K. Withers, who leaves to-day on a furlough of a week or two, B. F. Stout will conduct the duties of station agent at this point.

Miss Ella Trowbridge, formerly a pupil of Mrs. Irving, has gone to New York to perfect herself in the study of elocution. That success may attend her efforts, is the earnest wish of a large circle of friends and admirers.—Toledo Bee.

D. W. Gibbs, of Toledo, the architect of our new county buildings, has been appointed local supervising architect of the new government buildings to be erected in Toledo. Mr. G. is eminently qualified to conduct the duties of his position.

Gen. Steedman's child was baptized at St. Patrick's Cathedral by Rev. Father Hannin yesterday, in presence of a large congregation. As previously announced, the child was named after Samuel J. Tilden, Ed. Malone and Mrs. Bolen acted as sponsors.—Toledo Times.

Rev. W. J. Trimble, formerly pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church, Toledo, but now of Chatanooga, and Miss Lucinda Hogle, teacher of the Everett school, Toledo, were married at the Island House Tuesday forenoon, taking the 10:55 a. m. train for their Southern home.—South Toledo Ad.

The hosts of friends in Napoleon of Miss Johnson, who formerly taught in our schools, will be glad to learn that she has been induced to return to Napoleon and assume the duties of Principal in the High School. The School Board are to be congratulated upon their good luck in persuading Miss Johnson to return, as she is a most excellent young lady and a first-class teacher.

PARTY.—On Friday evening last there was a large gathering at the residence of Mrs. John Shelt, 4½ miles from town, in behalf of her daughter Mary. The evening was an enjoyable one, spent in different kinds of plays. A supper was partaken of at a late hour, after which the company dispersed, well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

SCANDAL AT LIBERTY.—On Saturday last, we learn, facts were brought to light in the usually quiet little town of Liberty Center which compelled Dr. Boyd to give up his residence in the place and skip for parts unknown. We have no facts in the matter, but enough is hinted at to know that Boyd has been altogether too familiar with other men's wives and was a confirmed morphine eater. The denizens of Liberty are much torn up over the affair, and probably the end is not yet.

John Smith's March, by Lamartine. This is the title of the latest novelty for organ or piano. It has become so popular that dealers buy it by the thousand. All who want an easy and pretty March for the organ or piano will be delighted with John Smith's March. Sent post paid on receipt of price, 35 cents. Published by Will. L. Thompson & Co., East Liverpool, Ohio.

ROYAL ARCANUM.—The following are the officers selected by the Royal Arcanum for the ensuing year:
J. D. Norton—Regent.
H. F. Norden—Vice-Regent.
J. M. Shoemaker—Orator.
B. F. Stout—Secretary.
H. E. Cary—Collector.
D. J. Humphrey—Treasurer.
L. L. Orwig—Chaplain.
R. J. Harper—Guide.
C. F. Andrews—Warden.
F. M. Baldwin—Sentry.
L. G. Randall, E. B. Harrison, J. S. Fouke, Trustees.

A. H. Tyler, Rep. to Grand Lodge.

We have received a book entitled Southeastern Kansas, written by a member of the Chicago press. The book is neatly gotten up and well written, contains full map and gives full and reliable information in regard to all counties in Southern and Southeastern Kansas, the more fertile portions of the State—with map of each county. Also valuable information in regard to the great lead and zinc mines of Southwest Missouri and Southeastern Kansas. The book is for gratuitous distribution, and may be had free of postage by addressing J. E. Lockwood, Kansas City, Mo. It should be in the hands of every person going to Kansas.

St. Valentine's Day next.

Daylight is getting longer.

The book-binder has left for parts unknown.

Who will put up an opera house in Napoleon?

Hon. Frank Hurd has our thanks for documents.

The sleighing has been much improved during the past week.

Bring us your job printing and advertising. Rates reasonable.

Scribner & Ulrich have some first class sleighs for sale, cheap.

The delinquent tax land sale will be held at Beckman Hall on next Tuesday.

Kendall's Spavin Cure has the greatest sale where it has been sold the longest.

Chas. Kolby has moved his saloon and building to lot nearly opposite the Northwest office.

A good house and lot on Scott street is offered for sale at a bargain. See notice in another column.

$10,000 received from the East to loan at 10 per cent, in sums of $100 or upward. Enquire of Pardee.

Do not fail to hear the lecture next Sunday night, at Beckman's Hall. Subject: "The Garden of Eden."

S. M. Honeck is bound to sell clothing made to order cheaper, quality considered, than any other house in the city.

SOLD OUT.—L. Bockelman has sold out his grocery store to Chas. Polke, who will take possession on the first of February.

We return thanks to F. R. Myers, of the Penn. R. R. Co., and to the Toledo & Columbus R. R., for renewed favors.

ELUCUTION.—Mrs. Irving's pupils and all desiring to become such, are requested to meet her at the City Hall, Monday, Jan. 17, 1881.

Friends of the Northwest are requested to hand us in local items of interest, especially personal items of friends visiting them or absent.

Winter clothing in large stock and assortment at Hahn & Meyer's, at Eagle Clothing House. Call in and examine goods and prices.

Take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral to stop your colds, coughs and Bronchial affections before they run into consumption that you cannot stop.

We have been requested to state that the Catholic people of Deshler will give a supper on the evening of Jan. 22d, for the benefit of the church. All are invited.

Sure cure for frost-bitten feet: Take equal parts of lard and camphor gum and coal oil. Melt lard, and dissolve camphor therein. When cool add the coal oil in equal proportion.

A new arrangement, called a switch board, has been placed in the telegraph office. The board contains over twelve hundred pieces, and is for the purpose of connecting and changing telegraph wires.

Cary & Co., proprietors of the oldest grocery house in Napoleon, appears this week with a new advertisement, calling attention to their large, fresh and varied stock. Cary & Co. invariably give you the worth of your money.

That fell disease, diphtheria, has again bereaved the family of Mr. Geo. Lightbizer. His only daughter, a bright little girl of five years of age, died on last Sabbath morning, following a little brother to the other world within a few short weeks. The family have the deepest sympathies of the community.

Don't fail to go to the New York Novelty Store and see the immense stock of lamps and glassware just received. Lamp chimneys 5 cents, goblets 5 cents, tumblers 5 cents, castors $1. Also, china and yellow Rockingham ware, 50 doz ladies and gents' handkerchiefs, kid gloves &c. Call at once for bargains.

Mr. Vian Cowdick and family were made quite sick on last Saturday by eating sausage made from diseased pork. Mr. Cowdick, having partaken more freely of the sausage than the rest, was dangerously sick for a time, but is now recovering. The balance of the family have recovered. Dr. Harrison informs us that he could distinguish no traces of trichina, but thought the meat was diseased in some way.

Letters remaining uncalled for in the Napoleon Post Office for the week ending January 8th, 1881.

George Cooner, Wm. Davis, Miss Edna Knapp, P. M. Miller, Alven Perkins, Alonzo Winkler.

Persons calling for the above letters will please say they were advertised and give date.

JAMES S. FOUKE, Postmaster.

THROW BACK YOUR SHOULDERS.—If you would avoid Consumption and all diseases of the Lungs and Liver, throw back your shoulders. This is most easily done by the use of the New Excelsior Shoulder Brace, sold at Saur's Drug and Book Store. Good healthy positions of the body are often a better aid to the preservation of health than the most powerful medicines when taken into the stomach. Most braces which have been sold heretofore have been expensive, and made in a way which gave the patient very little support or benefit. The Excelsior brace is well worthy of its name, and surpasses all others in point of durability and support, as well as every other way and in every particular in which any brace can be of the least, as well as the greatest possible advantage.

SCOTT-DRURY HOMICIDE.

[From Sandusky Register.]

CARRYING DEADLY WEAPONS.

Commenting on the shooting of Warren Drury at Napoleon by ex-Gov. Scott, the New York Herald says: "The whole wretched affair may be charged to the utterly inexcusable habit in young men of heavy drinking."

Nothing is more injurious to the bodies and the minds of young men, and of old men as well, than immoderate use of strong drink. That is the universal testimony of those who are themselves drinkers either in moderation or to excess. But the Herald does not understand the theory of the defense or of the prosecution in the Scott case.

The theory of the prosecution is that Governor Scott's son, a lad of sixteen, who had been drinking heavily all day Christmas, was taken in charge late in the evening by Drury, a young man of twenty-five, and put to bed to be cared for, young Scott having refused to go home; that Scott attempted to force his way into Drury's room, and meeting with resistance deliberately shot Drury and killed him. It is not pretended that Gov. Scott was under the influence of liquor or that he had drunk any liquor, but that he was mad with passion at Drury's refusal to let him pass through the store to his room.

The theory of the defense is that Scott left his home to find his son; that he learned that Drury had him in charge; that he attempted to force his way into the room where the son was sleeping off his debauch; that his revolver, which was in his overcoat pocket, went off accidentally and shot Drury to death. Why not charge the tragedy to the unlawful and foolish habit of carrying weapons? If Scott had left his revolver at home, Drury would now be alive and Scott would not be charged with murder. A few years ago a promising young dentist was shot down in the streets of this city and killed by a revolver belonging to a companion. Both men, the victim and the owner of the revolver, were on their way home from a temperance lodge. That tragedy, which many men believe now was murder, was not occasioned by liquor, but by the wicked habit of carrying deadly weapons.

GOV. SCOTT.

AN ITEM REGARDING HIS DEFENSE.

[Cincinnati Enquirer.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—A private letter received here to-day from a relative of Ex-Gov. Scott, of South Carolina, who killed young Drury at Napoleon, Ohio, states that the theory of the defense at the approaching trial will be that the shooting was accidental. The writer says that four intelligent surgeons who examined Drury's body and marked the course traversed by the ball, concur in the opinion that it would have been impossible for it to take the direction it did, had not the shooting been accidental.

[From the Bee.]

PERSECUTION vs. PROSECUTION.

SUGGESTIONS REGARDING THE CASE OF GOV. SCOTT, A CRIMINAL LAWYER IN A NEW ROLE.

Ed. Bee:—"Give me neither riches nor poverty." "In medio tutissimus est." If one happens to be rich, he is summarily tomahawked by the sans culottes, if there exists a semblance of crime against him, as an enemy of the commonwealth.

If another having once possessed riches, and by some erroneous business move, such as too liberal contributions to the destitute, or by endorsements, or other aids to friends, sweep away his possessions, he is then, often by those who have been recipients of his benefactions, placed down in their calendar as a fool, and the sympathies of mankind are closed against him.

If one possessing wealth is accused of crime, woe be unto him. The populace—the rabble—without why or wherefore, cry aloud: "Crucify him—hang him without judge or jury."

Envy and malice have a shining mark. In most cases juries return a verdict of manslaughter against a criminal, because he is poor, although he has committed a cool-blooded and deliberate murder, according to testimony, and his own confession added; and he is sentenced to a year's imprisonment. The man of wealth, however, arraigned on a charge of homicide, although defendant's own statements and testimony of witnesses corroborates his story, his case is pre-judged.

Is this right? Is it equity? Is it humanity? Where is the living man, rich or poor, who can rise in his place, and say that Gov. Scott ever wronged him of a dollar? On the contrary, many there are, tenants and others, who will say that his business dealings with them have always been not only fair and honest, but generous.

It strikes me, though no lawyer, but an outsider, that there is a noisome odor of persecution instead of prosecution, on the part of those who are managing this crusade against Gov. Scott.

I met J. R. Tyler, Esq., yesterday, in his professional career, this is the first instance in his life where he has been called upon by the prosecution, and he appears in a new role. His reputation in this country and throughout Ohio is thoroughly established, in the fact that he has successfully defended thirty-five persons arraigned by juries on the charge of homicide. As a criminal lawyer for the defense, his name and fame being so eminent, it astounded the friends of Governor Scott when they discovered that Mr. Tyler was retained by the other side. He is in harness for the first time, since he became a lawyer, for the State.

Mr. Tyler's position is an embarrassing one, as his great heart has always gone out in defense of the weak and the oppressed. And now his professional duty compels him, I suppose, to not only prosecute, but persecute. I do not know how it is, or what the result may be, but non veritas.

[From Toledo Democrat.]

Fouke, of the Napoleon Signal, who would rather lie on credit than tell the truth for cash, says we want Scott hung because he is a Republican, and that Steedman and Dodd are both renegade Republicans. We cannot see how lying about Steedman and Dodd can possibly help Scott's case. It must be that Fouke wants Scott acquitted for the reason he says we want him hanged, or he would not attribute political prejudice to us.

The Press and the Northwest Annual.

[Heavy County Signal.]

We are indebted to Brother Orwig for a copy of the Northwest's Illustrated Almanac. The illustrations are very fine, the typographical work excellent, and the publication is one the proprietor may feel proud of.

[Deshler Flag.]

We acknowledge the receipt of the Democratic Northwest's Annual, for which Bro. Orwig has our thanks. It is handsome.

[Ottawa Sentinel.]

We have received a copy of the Annual issued by the Democratic Northwest. It is handsomely printed, neatly gotten up, and upon the whole the best thing of the kind that has yet come under our observation.

[Defiance Express.]

The Napoleon Northwest has issued a very neat Annual for 1881, a sample copy of which is on our table.

[Youngstown Vindicator.]

From the Democratic Northwest, published at Napoleon, Ohio, we have an Almanac for 1881. It contains a number of cuts, handsome in design and press work, of sea shore and Rocky mountain scenery, with appropriate reading matter in the descriptive. L. L. Orwig, the publisher, shows enterprise in making so great an outlay for what must return him so little. Write for a copy.

[Lebanon Patriot.]

We are in receipt of a copy of the Democratic Northwest Annual, a neat almanac pamphlet, accompanied by the "adds" of prominent Napoleon business men.

[Defiance Democrat.]

The Northwest of Napoleon has our thanks for a copy of its "Annual," an elegant work, profusely illustrated, and containing much interesting reading.

[Lima Times.]

L. L. Orwig, publisher of the Northwest, has sent us a copy of his almanac for 1881. It is a neatly printed work, with a good advertising patronage, and speaks well for the enterprise of the citizens of that place.

[Wauson Republican.]

We are indebted to Mr. L. L. Orwig, of the Democratic Northwest, for copy of a very neat illustrated Almanac for 1881.

[Wauson Express.]

We acknowledge a very tasty "Annual" from the Napoleon Northwest. The work is a credit to the publisher, L. L. Orwig.

[Bowling Green Democrat.]

Bro. Orwig, of the Napoleon Northwest, will accept our thanks for a copy of his annual almanac. It is neatly gotten up, and shows creditable typographical skill.

[Bryan Democrat.]

The annual issued by the Napoleon Northwest is one of the neatest publications of its class that we have received.

[Celina Standard.]

We are under obligations to L. L. Orwig, editor of the Napoleon Northwest, for a copy of his Annual for the year 1881. The work shows that Bro. Orwig is competent to turn out first-class work from his office. He will please accept our thanks.

[Deatur (Ind.) Democrat.]

The neatest almanac received at this office was sent to us by our old journalistic brother of the Napoleon, Ohio, Northwest, L. L. Orwig. And we also thank Mr. Orwig for placing us on the exchange list of the Northwest, a copy of which lies before us. It looks as natural as a basket of chips.

[Perrysburg Journal.]

We find on our table a very neatly printed and handsomely illustrated almanac for 1881, issued by the Napoleon Northwest. Its pages are well interspersed with home advertising and the general appearance is creditable to the office issuing it.

LIBERTY CENTER, Jan. 9, 1881.

Mr. Editor:—In looking over the Peru Republican, we notice the confession of faith of the much abused Thomas Paine, which we think would be quite interesting to a number of your readers, and would give us great pleasure to see it published in your paper. Viz:

I believe in one God and no more, and I hope for happiness after this life. I believe in the equality of man, and I believe that religious duties consist in doing justice, loving mercy and endeavoring to make our fellow creatures happy. But some will say we have no word of God—no revelation? I answer, yes; there is a word of God, there is a revelation. The word of God is the creation we behold; and it is in this word which no human invention can counterfeit or alter. That God speaketh universally to man, it preaches to all nations and to all worlds, and this word of God reveals to man all that is necessary for man to know of God. Do we want to contemplate His power, we see it in the immensity of the creation. Do we want to contemplate His wisdom, we see it in the unchangeable order by which the incomprehensible whole is governed. Do we want to contemplate His munificence, we see it in the abundance with which he fills the earth. Do we want to contemplate His mercy, we see it in his not withholding that abundance even from the unthankful. In fine, do we want to know what God is, search not the book called the scriptures, which any human hand might make, but the scriptures called the creation.

Now to those who hold Thomas Paine to be an Atheist and without the slightest veneration or regard for religion, and malign his name because he doubted the special inspiration of the book they call the scriptures, please bring forward a better confession of faith.

A RARE BARCAIN!

HOUSE AND LOT FOR SALE.—A good house and lot on Scott street will be sold cheap, on time. Good well, cistern and barn. Best location in town. Enquire at this office.

Humphrey the druggist, (next door to our office), will sell the balance of his holiday goods at great reduction. Pictures, velvet frames, albums, fine boxes, toilet sets, &c.

Liberty News.

ED. NORTHWEST.—I speak for the first time of the Liberty Center Brass Band, organized but a short time ago, now having regular practice, and the rapid progress being made is highly worthy of note, already executing several pieces in quite fair style. With that firmness and determination on the part of the learners necessary to success in all legitimate and laudable undertakings, we shall soon have a band that will compete in efficiency with bands of surrounding country towns. We have some natural musical talent not surpassed anywhere, and with proper encouragement and financial aid on the part of the citizens who enjoy such luxuries, failure is out of the catalogue, and I hope on 4th of July next Liberty Center can pride herself with a band in a nice uniform on her streets, sounding the sweet national airs which will echo and re-echo from heart to heart and inspire new zeal in love of American liberty, and admiration of this new organization.

A mush and milk neck-tie festival will take place on Wednesday eve, Jan. 19th, at Grange Hall, in the interest of the band. Old and young, married and unmarried, are invited promiscuously, from towns and country, far and near, to swell the tide and add to the sport. Each gentleman will be presented with a tie, at the door, costing fifteen cents; entitling the holder to the entertainment of the evening accompanying the lady holding corresponding tie to mush and milk, none having the least knowledge of their partner until ties are compared, and of course will present some ludicrous spectacles in coupling off the party. A large gathering and an equal amount of merriment and jollity will no doubt be realized. All extras after joining the social party will be an extra charge according to purchase.

The late additional snow has brought out the sleds, and saw-logs, wood &c., is coming from every quarter. The young people too are utilizing it in pleasure rides and every available runner vehicle is on the track.

The measles have found the way into our schools, and several families are watching over their dear ones while the contagion is holding many of its victims bedfast; no fatal cases yet reported. The schools have been closed for a few weeks on account of the malady.

A singing school has been organized for the winter, under the instruction of Mr. Cuff, our principal school teacher, who is said to be also a competent teacher in vocal music.

Since writing the above, the Toledo Bee has been handed me, containing an article purporting to be from this place, and it having been hinted that I was the author, I ask a defense in your columns, and give it a public denial in toto. I am neither a subscriber nor correspondent for the Bee, and during the many years I have been an occasional correspondent for Toledo and other papers, nothing of that tone was ever written by my pen. While I am ever ready to renounce foolish and false traditions of the past dark ages, and make my own defense when attacked, if I cannot help to elevate, will try never to lower any person in the scale of being. If some giant overpowers me and throws me into the gutter because I cannot resist his power, shall the next one kick me because I have been hurled like a feather in a whirlwind from my equilibrium by an overwhelming force? Does a giant deserve more credit to himself for being a giant, than a dwarf for being a dwarf; a lion for being a lion, than a mouse for being a mouse? Neither made themselves, nor had any control or knowledge of being transformed from immortal, ever living, never changing and undying abstract principles, into one conglomerate and heterogeneous identity of animal and vegetable life, each appearing in its time, place and sphere, with greater or less developments as the peculiar circumstances of its identity permitted, and there left for proper training and culture for future results. The goat, with all the training, culture and care, can never yield that beautiful fleece shorn from the sheep. The tender and lovely flower of the garden cannot be trained into a giant oak of the forest. Man is born into the world with a basis and foundation for certain developments, and while some rise high on the elevated plane of moral and intellectual advancement through the storms and winds of adverse outward circumstances, others fall by the wayside, despite their own internal powers. Hence the great fortune to him who is strong, to withstand the tide that beats against him, while the weak are washed and wafted to and fro struggling with all their power to float their little bark, and faint with exhaustion, sink beneath the mighty wave. And who shall say accused by thy weakness, and we will throw dead weights upon thee to keep thy body down. Not the true christian, but in this cold world of strife each must stand or fall by his own strength or weakness; sink or swim, survive or perish.

WATCHMAN.

Liberty Center, O., Jan. 10, 1881.

Mrs. A. E. Mann has moved her dress-making establishment over Stockman's grocery store, where she will be pleased to see all her old customers.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are free from all crude and irritating matter. Concentrated medicine only; very small; very easy to take; no pain; no griping; no purging.

MARRIED.

AMES—KADEL.—At the Crosby House, Defiance, Dec. 30th, 1880, by the Rev. S. L. Roberts, Mr. Mortimer W. Ames and Miss Mary E. Kadel, both of Hamler, Henry county, Ohio.

HOY—BLYTHE.—At the residence of the bride's parents, in Harrison twp., Henry Co., Ohio, Jan. 1st, 1881, by Rev. W. H. Ingle, Mr. Albert Hoy and Miss Emma Blythe, both of Harrison twp., Henry Co., Ohio.

DIED.

LIGHTHIZER.—On Jan. 9th, 1881, of diphtheria, Maudie A., only daughter of George and Barbara E. Lighthizer, aged 6 years and 4 months.

MUSIC AT LOW RATES.—The criticisms of the January Score are of especial value as they contain a lengthy review of Berlioz's Symphonie Fantastique, and "L'Inferno" by Louis C. Elie, who also commences a series of historical papers upon the "German song." The paragraph column is also especially brilliant. Seven pieces of music are also found in this issue, the prices of any one being sufficient inducement for our readers to get this valuable number. We mention the list: "Mush, Mush; Quilting Party;" "Polly Welly Doodle" popular college songs, "Sunday Vocal," by Holzel, "Fra Diavolo," Fantasia by Sydney Smith, "Blessed be the Lord," sacred selection, with the popular "Heel and Toe Polka." Send your name with 10 cents (stamps taken) to Jno. F. Perry & Co., 13 West St., Boston.

Parents of Napoleon and vicinity, it is all folly to go to Toledo to purchase your children's clothing, when Hahn & Meyer keeps a full stock on hand at all times. Their prices are as low if not lower than Toledo prices, and their goods are always the latest style. Try them and see if the above is not true.

Write to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, No. 223 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., for pamphlets relative to the curative properties of her Vegetable Compound in all female complaints.

Parties wishing overcoats made to order can get them at S. M. Honeck's, now, at bottom prices.

Go to Bradley's for an extra quality of fine cut tobacco.

Man's Noblest Work.

This is an age of great works and wonderful inventions. Steam, electricity, water, air, all are made to serve man, but unquestionably the greatest inventions are those which preserve man's health and prolong his life, and among the greatest of these is Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Its effects are truly wonderful and hundreds are happy to-day who once looked forward to an early grave. For Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, loss of voice, Hay Fever, Hoarseness, Croup, or any affection whatever of the Throat, Chest or Lungs, Dr. King's New Discovery will positively cure. We can cheerfully recommend it to all, and can unhesitatingly say it is the only cure for Throat and Lung Affections. Trial bottles ten cents; regular size $1. For sale by J. C. Saur, Napoleon, Ohio.

Title! Title! Title!

I have the pleasure of announcing to the public that I have over one hundred thousand title on hand, of all sizes, and would advise parties wishing to purchase title, to call at my yard, one mile south east of Napoleon, Ohio, and examine price and stock.
